Dear Parents/Carers,

Science week

Next week we will be celebrating Science Week in school focussing on a variety of lessons and activities to reinforce the importance and application of science in the wider world. I know a number of parents have volunteered to come in and talk to the children about how their jobs utilise science and how it relates to your roles. We are really grateful for this and I know the children will be really excited to hear about the range of careers that use this important subject. To end science week on Friday, children are invited to come dressed as "their future science career." Children can come dressed as what they would like to be when they are older and try to explain the link with science. For example, they might come in a sports kit and explain about the importance of healthy eating on muscles or a nurse, doctor, vet, mechanic, builder. The list is endless!

Parents' Evening

Your child should have brought home an appointment slip for parents' evening today. These will take place on Tuesday 22nd and Wednesday 23rd March. You will have the opportunity to talk to your child's teacher and see a range of their books. If you are unable to make the time allocated, please contact your child's teacher who will try to arrange a mutually convenient time.

Health and Safety

For health and safety purposes please avoid congregating outside the reception classes at drop off time in the morning. Due to the building works, it is very narrow at the moment and it is preventing children being able to access classrooms safely. Please also refrain from using mobile phones on the school site.

Ukraine

We will shortly be organising a fundraiser to help those affected by the conflict in Ukraine. Our worship council are organising this at the moment and more details will be sent out shortly.

It is lovely to see parent and carers more regularly again in school and look forward to seeing you at parent's consultations, reading workshops and celebration assemblies over the coming weeks.

Yours sincerely
